School Poetry Contest Winners Receive Awards

Winners of the high school poetry contest, co-sponsored by the Arena Blanca Chapter of Chaparral Poets and the Carmel Pine Cone, were guests of honor at the February 21 Arena Blanca meeting held at the Carmel Art Association Galleries. Preceding the presentation of awards, the winning poems were read by Mrs. Olivia Young, contest chairman.

Of the four cash prizes, the first went to Jenny Young, Junipero Memorial High School, for her poem, The Evening Bird; second to Peggy Hawkins, Santa Catalina School for Girls, for Fat Tuesday; third to John Hamamura, Monterey Union High School for Song From Darkness; fourth to Katherine Fiske, Junipero, for Fish Pond. Honorable mention went to Katherine Ramer, Pacific Grove High School for Weather, and to Sheila Work, Carmel High School, for Aftermath. All six winners received junior memberships in the California Federation of Chaparral Poets.

Guest speaker for the award night meeting was Jack Gallaher, English teacher at Pacific Grove High School, who discussed What Is a Poem? He said, "A poem demands the open mind of a reader," and he advised, "Don't discard a poet because you can't understand him now."

Arena Blanca members passed a resolution recommending the appointment of Edythe Hope Genee as California's poet laureate. She is a widely published poet, is editor of The American Bard, and has served two terms as state president of the Chaparral Poets. Copies of the resolution have been sent to State Assemblyman Alan Pattee and State Senator Fred Farr.

Planners Permit Subdivision Of Doud Beach Land

The Carmel Planning Commission yesterday afternoon granted a use permit to Anita Doud and Kathleen Watson to subdivide into three building sites a piece of land on the west side of Scenic Drive north of Seventh. The decision included a condition that the access route necessary to the opening of the lots will not be used for public vehicular traffic to Carmel Beach.

The unanimous vote followed acceptance of a committee report made by Commissioner Hugh Smith, saying the route which will be re-opened, Del Mar Avenue, was closed by the city in the first place solely to prevent public access at this point.

Allowing a driveway to the new lots, but not a public thoroughfare to the beach, would satisfy the original plan of the city, the report said in effect.

In other action yesterday, the commissioners denied a variance permit to Anne Bosworth, but excused her from removing the non-conformity caused by a garage set too close to a lot side boundary on her property on San Antonio near Eleventh.

The city's parking studies were discussed briefly by the commission also yesterday, and the group set an adjourned session for Tuesday at 4:00 o'clock in city hall, at which time methods of proceeding with the parking study will be presented.

BUSINESS ASSOCIATION MEETING

Herbert Heron, poet, and founder of the Forest Theater, also a former mayor and proprietor of the first book shop in Carmel, will describe the "village" era of the city for members of the Carmel Business Association at their quarterly meeting on March 9. Mayor Frank Putnam will discuss the present day era for the "heritage" program.

The dinner meeting will be held in La Playa Hotel. A social hour, starting at 6:30 o'clock, will precede dinner at 7:30. Reservations should be made before Monday by telephoning MA 4-2579.

Vice president Leo Tanous will be in charge of this meeting, as Mrs. Gladys McCloud, business association president, is on a trip to the Orient.

School architect, Thomas Elston, reported last night that in spite of the loss of seven days' time because of rain, Carmel Junior High School construction is on schedule.

"And the ducks have left the pond," he added, as indication that the rainy season is almost gone.

During the rains a miniature lake developed at the school site and three ducks took possession. Mr. Elston assured trustees that all future lakes "will be included in the landscaping."

He was authorized by the board to select with other school architects "earth tones" as interior and exterior colors for the new school.

Someone tried to steal one of the life-sized metal storks out of a planting area in the Doud Arcade Sunday night, and destroyed the bird by pulling it off of its steel shaft which was sunk into the ground, James Doud said this week. The attempted theft is one of a long series of acts of vandalism among plants and fixtures in the new plaza.

Fred Keeble was elected chairman of the Carmel Planning Commission at the annual meeting of the commissioners held following the regular session yesterday afternoon.

Keeble, who has been vice chairman of the commission, succeeds Herbert Blanks, chairman for the past three years. Commissioner Hugh Smith is the new vice chairman. L. D. Rose was re-elected secretary.

A public hearing on the application of Robert Stanton for further development of Normandy Inn at Ocean Avenue and Monte Verde Street will be held Monday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock in City Hall by the board of adjustments.

Mr. Stanton is requesting a use permit for a men's and women's clothing store, a gift shop, a restaurant, and a professional office.

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall, in a letter this week, congratulated the Monterey County Planning Commission, also the Board of Supervisors, for their "foresight and enterprise" in striving to protect the scenic beauty of Highway One below Carmel to the San Luis Obispo County line by (Continued on Page Thirteen)

Second Meeting On River Mouth Flood Control Measures

A second study session to explore ways of controlling flood waters in the Carmel River lagoon area was held on Tuesday morning in Carmel City Hall. State officials, representatives from the California Water and Telephone Company, Carmel Sanitary District, and the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School, also ranchers in the area under discussion, met with State Senator Fred Farr on this occasion.

Discussion centered on proposals for getting equipment to the lagoon so that the bar at the river mouth may be opened if flood conditions threaten.

When the bar is open, excess river water during heavy rains flows into the ocean and prevents flooding of the lagoon area such as occurred on February 10 when several homes bordering the lagoon in the Mission Tract were inundated.

Owners of the flooded houses contended that delay in opening the bar last month caused thousands of dollars' damage to their homes.

Tuesday's proposals to prevent recurrence of such conditions were: official weather forecasts should be obtained from the department of meteorology and oceanography at the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School during the rainy season; the California Water and Telephone Company should re-

Viola-Piano Duo, Best In Europe, To Give Free MPC Concert

The Wallfisch Duo—Ernst and Lory Wallfisch, celebrated young violinist and pianist—will appear in concert at Monterey Peninsula College on the evening of March 9.

Presented by the MPC music department, their recital will begin at 8:30 o'clock in the new music hall on campus. The public is invited to attend without charge.

Both the musicians were born in Bucharest, where they performed in viola and piano repertoire together from their student days. After their marriage, they lived in the United States for some years, eventually becoming citizens. However, their career abroad developed so widely and notably that they lived in Switzerland for some time, touring constantly from there.

Now making their headquarters in Salzburg, Austria, where Ernst is full professor to the Mozarteum, they are considered the first-ranking viola-piano duo on the European continent. They are heard during most of each season with chamber music societies, festivals and on radio and television programs. Violist Ernst also appears as soloist with European orchestras and chamber groups and has recorded Bartok and Milhaud works in Paris.

Recently, the Wallfischs have extended their field to Africa, South America and this country. This is their first tour to the West Coast.

Their program for the MPC concert will include Sonata in C Major, Handel; Pictures from Fairy Tales, Opus 113, Schumann; Sonata for Unaccompanied Viola, Opus 11, No. 5, Hindemith; and Sonata in F Minor, Opus 120, No. 1, Brahms.

School District Administration Changes Advised

Carmel Unified District schools are doing a better than average job of educating children although the entire instructional program needs coordinating and the administrative staff should be reorganized as soon as possible school board members learned last night in a report presented by Dr. William R. Odell and Dr. Mark Lewis, members of Odell-MacConnell Associates, planning consultants for education and industry, retained by the board to analyze the district's administrative organization and operation.

The report recommended that the district superintendent should have two assistants, one to coordinate the educational program, kindergarten through twelfth grade; the other to administer all business of the district.

It also recommended re-evaluation of the present duties of the director of recreation and physical education, curriculum coordinator, adult education and summer school director and high school boys' vice principal.

Areas in which Carmel district lacks coordination, the report stated are the entire instructional program, special pupil services, summer school and adult education programs, recreation and physical education program, curriculum.

The district superintendent should take more responsibility in screening applicants for teaching jobs, and evaluation of probationary teachers, the report indicated, but added that at present the superintendent has 13 administrators reporting directly to him instead of a desirable maximum of seven to ten.

Reorganization of the central office staff with two assistant superintendents, the report added, would give the superintendent time to: recommend hiring and dismissal of school personnel; screen teacher applicants; evaluate probationary teachers; serve on professional and lay committees; become familiar with all subject fields taught; in addition to his principal duties of curriculum development and evaluation.

A superintendent may delegate to school principals some of the responsibility of keeping constantly informed about innovations in curriculum development and evaluation, also familiarity with all subject fields taught, but there is need for coordination of the curriculum across grade levels and within grade levels, kindergarten through twelfth grade. Carmel is deficient in this need as the curriculum development and evaluation.

Ted Fehring Named Executive Assistant For Carmel Savings

Ted Fehring of Carmel has accepted a position as executive assistant in charge of loans and business development with the Carmel Savings and Loan Association, it was announced today by Barnett Segal, managing director of the firm.

Fehring, a Carmelite for the past 17 years, will assume his new post in mid-April. He has been for the past four and one-half years with Pioneer Investors Savings and Loan Association of Monterey, serving as vice president and branch manager.

Known on the Peninsula for his many activities in business, education, church and service groups, Fehring came to Carmel in June, 1945, from Terre Haute, Indiana, where he was high school athletic (Continued on Page Sixteen)

TREE TOUR

A special tree tour meeting of the Carmel City Council has been set by Mayor Frank Putnam for Tuesday at 4:00 o'clock in the city hall to consider two items, both concerning trees. One is a request for removal of a tree on Carmelo between Twelfth and Thirteenth Streets made by Mrs. Helen D. Leslie who says the tree will be in front of the garage doors of her proposed home, and the other a request for trimming a pine on Crespi Way southwest of Mountain View from Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

CARMEL HOOP TOURNAMENT GETS UNDERWAY TODAY

A new-look Carmel Invitational Basketball Tournament hits the boards at 4:30 this afternoon with newcomer San Lorenzo Valley tackling charter member Gonzales in the tourney opener. This one matches San Lorenzo's brilliant Steve Rodriguez with the Spartans' nifty Gil Desantiago, and the competition should be about even-up.

Marty Baskin's Pacific Grove Breakers, participants in the fourteen previous tournaments, tangle with a weak St. Francis quintet from Mountain View in the 6:00 o'clock tussle. St. Francis is trailing the Catholic Athletic League in the Bay Area, and fifth-place Breakers figure to be too strong for Coach Andy Locatelli's crew.

Monterey's Junipero Memorial High, fresh from a convincing win in the Catholic Tournament, takes on the spirited Gustine Indians in the 7:30 tussle, and this one may be but a casual warm-up for the CAL champs.

In the tournament for the first time, Ceres High could prove to be tough competition for Coach Dick Lawitzke's host Padres in the 9:00 o'clock feature game. Ceres is riding high in its own league and has excellent rebound strength to counter Carmel's board sweepers.

For the first time in its 15-year history, the Carmel Tournament will not be graced by the presence of Coach Bob Hagen's talented Gilroy High Mustangs. Champions of the CCAL B-division and rated the best prep team in the area, Gilroy High has always been a staunch supporter of the "Carmel," and the Blue and White rooters waged many a friendly battle with the Red and Gray rooting sections. It is too bad the students have to suffer because of spite moves promulgated by adults in charge.

Friday night's semi-final action also starts at 4:30 with four games on the docket. In Saturday's finals, battle for third-place gets underway at 6:00 o'clock; the consolation championship will be decided at 7:30; and the championship joust will find the ball in the air at 9:00 o'clock.

PADRE VARSITY AND JV SPLIT WITH GONZALES

Carmel High's varsity and junior-varsity basketball squads closed out the regular league season last Friday night by splitting a pair with the Gonzales Spartans. Coach Clyde Klaumann's scrappy junior-varsity aggregation clipped the Gonzales reserves, 42 to 28, while the Spartan varsity outscored the injury-riddled Padres, 60 to 54.

In spite of a fine 20-point effort by Rich Shively, the Red and Gray varsity couldn't overcome a sparkling all-around performance by the Spartans' Gilbert Desantiago who did everything but tape the ankles of his teammates. The diminutive Desantiago pumped through 18 points to top the well-balanced Spartan scoring attack, but it was in the passing and playmaking department that the all-league candidate hurt the Padres.

Down by 11 points early in the third period, the hard-trying Padres made their customary comeback and pulled even with the visitors at 52-52 late in the final period. However, the brilliant Desantiago tanked a one-hander to put Gonzales ahead, and the Carmel lads had to foul the Spartans in order to get possession of the ball. The Padres matched the winners in the field goal department, but fell behind on the strength of some accurate foul-shooting on the part of the valley gang.

Last Friday's league action terminates the CCAL play of seniors Ted Leidig, Rich Shively, Pete Morse, Al Marshall, and Page van Loben Sels. However, four of the five graduating seniors will see action in the Carmel Tournament which starts tonight. Unlucky Pete Morse, workhorse rebounder and rugged defender, is hobbled with a broken foot and will miss all the tournament games.

Continuing to show improvement and picking up valuable game experience with each outing, the Carmel junior-varsity displayed a polished attack while downing the Spartan varsity reserves. Led by Skip Michelson, a standout performer for the Jayvees all season, the Red and Gray Jayvees had game control in the first quarter, and had a 12-point bulge at the halftime rest period. Michelson marked up 15 points to lead all scorers, but he received excellent floor support from Stan Cummings, Bob Wells, Mike Brasher, Al Nishimura, David Harris, and Steve Maher.

CARMEL LIGHTWEIGHTS TIE FOR CCAL TITLE

Turning in their best game of the season, Coach Harold Lippstreu's Carmel High School lightweight hoop squad posted a 53-38 win over the Gonzales Babes last Friday night and earned a share of the league title while avenging an earlier defeat at the hands of the Little Spartans. An assist from San Lorenzo Valley High in the nature of an upset win over Live Oak, put the Padre Babes in a deadlock with the Little Acorns and brought the first lightweight championship in Carmel High history to the Padre trophy case.

Strictly a "team" ball club with no outstanding stars, the Little Padres have played outstanding basketball all season and their only losses in league play were occasioned by cold shooting nights when their basket had a cover on it. Live Oak, co-champions of the B-division lightweight race, clipped the Little Padres in an early-season game and the unpredictable Gonzales Babes jolted the Carmel lads in the upset of the season.

Last Friday night's rematch with Gonzales was strictly no-contest as the Little Padres broke in front at the opening tip-off and increased the margin all the way. A well-organized fast-break attack saw the Carmel lights move in for numerous uncontested layup shots following deft passes from Jack DeWitt and Enborg Halle. Rich Wise and Jose Fernandez were the front line in the fast-moving offense with Wise tanking 23 points for the game's high. Stellar all-around play by Al Arndt earned him a spot on Coach Dick Lawitzke's varsity club in Friday night's joust with Gonzales, and the slender senior turned in a poised performance on the big unit. In addition to Arndt, lightweights Enborg Halle and Jack DeWitt will move up to the varsity for action in tonight's Carmel Invitational Tournament.

Manning this year's champion ship squad were Al Tegtmeyer, Al Arndt, Ed Brown, Ken Wiese, Gary Mumford, Davin Risdon, Steve Trapkus, Jay Lang, Jack DeWitt, Jose Fernandez, Enborg Halle, Richard Wise, Pete Steffen, Rick Miller, Bob Moffatt, and Joe Toner. Mentored by Harold Lippstreu, a second-year coach at Carmel High, the Padre lightweight gang was as noted for its fine brand of sportsmanship as for its

Mr. Blanks said, "It's most gratifying to see the manner in which Mr. Smith has blended his architectural concept of a needed convenience into the natural beauty of the Valley. The grassed areas, these 30 trees and others which are to come are the sort of thing we like to see."

TALK ON PHONICS TONIGHT AT SUNSET SCHOOL

The Spalding Method of teaching reading, or Unified Phonics, will be discussed by Mrs. G. B. H. Hall, wife of Admiral Hall of Carmel Valley, this evening at 8:00 o'clock in Sunset School cafeteria. This will be the third of a series sponsored jointly by the Professional and Citizens Reading Committees and offered by the Carmel Unified School District.

The Spalding Method, developed by Mrs. Romalda B. Spalding of Honolulu and outlined in her book, The Writing Road to Reading, teaches spelling first, by actually writing the sounds of words on paper. Speaking, writing, spelling, and reading are taught as related parts of a single subject—the English language—and the method follows the same natural teaching sequence by which man developed language itself.

NO LIBRARIAN'S COLUMN

There has been no Librarian's Column in the past three issues of the Pine Cone. Mrs. Ruth Galvin Thornburg, head librarian at the Harrison Memorial Library, who writes the feature, first was ill, then left for Hampton, Iowa, her home town, because of the illness of her mother. She is expected back in Carmel in a week's time. Her weekly column about books will be resumed then.

George Nickel

George W. Nickel of Pebble Beach died last Thursday in New York City, where he was a patient at New York Memorial Hospital. With him in the East at the time of his death was his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Wilkes Nickel.

Mr. Nickel, 75, died following surgery. The couple, residents of Pebble Beach for the past 15 years, had gone to New York earlier this month.

A native San Franciscan, Mr. Nickel was the grandson of one of California's most colorful pioneers, "cattle baron" Henry Miller, whose more than a million acres of grazing land yielded oil after Miller's death in 1916.

Following his graduation from Yale University in 1910, Mr. Nickel entered his grandfather's corporation, holding various positions in the Miller and Lux Enterprises. For many years in San Francisco he was engaged in real estate and insurance, becoming an executive with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Widely traveled and an enthusiastic golfer, Mr. Nickel had played the famous golf courses of England and Scotland before retiring to Pebble Beach, where he was a familiar figure on the local courses.

He was a member of the Cypress Point Golf Club, the Monterey Peninsula Country Club, the Old Capital Club, the Burlingame Country Club and San Francisco's Pacific Union Club.

Besides Mrs. Nickel, survivors include two daughters, Mrs. William Wallace Mein Jr., of Woodside, and Mrs. Oliver Lombardi of San Rafael; a son, George W. Nickel Jr., of San Francisco; a sister, Mrs. Philip Morse, of San Francisco; 15 grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren. Mr. Nickel was preceded in death by another son, John Beverly Nickel, who died in a plane crash near Los Banos in 1954.

Memorial rites will be held tomorrow in St. John's Chapel, Del Monte, with the Reverend Bernard N. Lovgren officiating. Contributions in memory of Mr. Nickel may be made to the New Community Hospital Fund, P. O. Box HH, Carmel.

Inurnment in the family niche at Woodlawn Columbarium, Colma, California, will follow Monday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock.

The Paul Mortuary has been in charge of local arrangements.

Rhys Williams

Albert Rhys Williams, one of the leading personalities among the group of writers and artists who made Carmel their headquarters during the Thirties, died Tuesday in North Tarrytown, New York at the age of 78.

Noted among American writers of his time for his books about Russia, Mr. Williams was a foreign correspondent in Russia during the Russian Revolution in 1918, later traveling widely in Europe and covering assignments relating to the turmoil of the times in the Twenties and later. He made his home in Carmel in the late 1920's and the 1930's.

Mr. Williams, who had been ordained a minister in the Congregational Church before taking up his career in journalism, was the son of a clergyman. His own son is also a minister, the Reverend Albert Rhys Williams, formerly of the Unitarian Church of Charleston,

South Carolina, and now with the Unitarian Church in Boston.

Perhaps best remembered among the Williams books on Russia was a nearly encyclopedic collection of information called "The Soviets," which remains a unique work of its kind. Though suffering a period of recent ill health, Mr. Williams was still working at various writing projects almost until the time of his death.

He and his wife, Lucita, left Carmel to move to Vancouver Island, British Columbia, before establishing their present home in North Tarrytown.

In addition to his wife and son, Mr. Williams also leaves a grandson, Albert Rhys Williams III.

Julian Walter

A new resident of Carmel, Julian Dwight Walter, 58, died of a heart attack early Tuesday at a local hospital.

He had moved here last week with his wife, Martha Allen Walter, to a home on Rio Road.

A native of Brunswick, Georgia, Mr. Walter was born May 24, 1903. He came to Carmel from Chattanooga, Tennessee, where he had been district agent for the Mutual Life Insurance Company and a member of the Life Underwriters' Association.

He was a member of the Mountain City Club and the Fairyland Golf Club of Chattanooga.

In addition to Mrs. Walter, he leaves a son, Dwight Walter of San Francisco; two brothers, Emory E. Walter of Denver, and Edgar Dorsey Walter of Chattanooga, and a sister, Mrs. Vance Brown of Denver.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:00 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Mission Mortuary Chapel, Monterey, with the Reverend David Hill of All Saints' Episcopal Church, Carmel, officiating. Cremation and inurnment will follow.

Gladys Barnes

Funeral services were held on Monday for Gladys Cooper Barnes, wife of Monterey County District Attorney Edward K. Barnes. Mrs. Barnes died at her Carmel Valley home last Friday evening following a period of ill health.

Mrs. Barnes, who studied at the University of California and the University of Belfast, was the great-great niece of General Mariano Vallejo, one of the authors of California's constitution. Vallejo's father, Ignacio Vallejo, was in Father Junipero Serra's party of 1769. A forebear of Mrs. Barnes's was Captain John B. R. Cooper, California settler in 1823, and half-brother of Thomas O. Larkin.

Her marriage to Edward Barnes, who survives her, took place June 18, 1958.

Other survivors are two aunts, Miss Frances Molera of San Francisco, and Mrs. Ethel Jewett of Berkeley, and a cousin, Mrs. H. W. Toulmin of Santa Barbara.

The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

James Deasy

Word has come from Santa Cruz of the death there Sunday of Carmel realtor James Deasy, who moved recently to Santa Cruz to make his home.

In addition to his realty office here, Mr. Deasy had an office in Santa Cruz. He died following a heart attack, according to information received yesterday in Carmel.

Miss Muggins Lost Following 'Capsule' Journey To Carmel

This has been a banner year for travelers, especially Colonel John Glenn, and Miss Muggins, a tortoise-shell tiger-striped cat.

The colonel circled the globe three times in four hours, but it took Miss Muggins 13 days to cover the 3900 miles from her native Nantucket Island to Carmel in her little travel case on the front seat of the car between her owners, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beach.

When the Beaches decided to leave Nantucket and make their home in Carmel, there was talk that Miss Muggins, whom they had adopted as a tiny kitten, might have difficulty making the trip. She had never made a trip before, or, for that matter, never been in a car or travel case. She had been born on the austere Nantucket moors and had sought shelter from the raging winds one bitter night. Most wild cats prefer the safety of their native moors even in winter, but Miss Muggins lingered on with the Beaches, enjoying the cosy fireplace, warm food, and even learning to trust human creatures.

She made the trip successfully, getting out of her "space capsule" each night, s-t-r-e-t-c-h-i-n-g as she emerged; then giving a quick look at the motel room. She then had a good wash, and finally demanded dinner. She made no complaint those long, and for her, interminable days, as she traveled across the country. First, a boat-ride to the mainland, 36 miles from her island. Then across parts of 16 states: Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, finally California. Then Carmel, the goal was reached.

Some mornings, Miss Muggins felt reluctant to enter her "space capsule" and gentle persuasion was necessary. The delicious aroma of a freshly opened can of tuna fish would lure her from under the bed where she had taken refuge, and soon, another day's journey would begin.

But across the entire country, not an unhappy sound came from Miss Muggins. The weather did not cooperate. There was snow, and sleet, ice and sub-zero weather, and on the day the Beaches arrived in Carmel, there were hailstones as well. But they were overjoyed to reach their destination with Miss Muggins in fine shape. They were fortunate in finding a wonderful house to rent, with a view of the sea, and their happiness seemed complete.

But now there is sadness — for Miss Muggins is missing. On Thursday evening she ventured out alone and did not return. The Beaches are sure that their beloved companion would return if she could. But how confusing and bewildering Carmel must seem to her, with so many houses and no familiar landmark!

Since Miss Muggins left, the Beaches have walked all streets surrounding their home on San Antonio many, many times hoping to get a glimpse of her. Perhaps, as she watched Colonel Glenn make his flight on TV she decided to explore, too. But, unlike the Colonel, Miss Muggins, the littlest traveler has not returned. Has anyone seen her?

Carmel CHS Chapter Rummage Sale Sat. At Carmel Mission

Littlebits, Carmel chapter of the Children's Home Society, will hold a rummage sale on Saturday from 10:00-2:00 o'clock in Crespi Hall at Carmel Mission.

Mrs. Ted Fehring is chairman of the event. Rummage will include much almost new clothing and one wedding dress, size 10, which was donated after being worn once. Every article in the sale will be usable, according to Mrs. Fred Stanley, publicity chairman.

Proceeds from the Rags to Riches sale will support the Children's Home Society, California's oldest licensed adoption agency, which since 1891 has placed over 20,000 children in homes with families.

Mrs. Frederic E. Rainer is president of the Carmel chapter.

Five Candidates In Co. Superintendent Of Schools Race

H. G. "Tony" Royal, 32-year-old counselor at Washington Junior High School in Salinas, is the fifth candidate to announce his intention to run for the position of county superintendent of schools in the June 5 primary election.

Royal has six years' teaching and counseling experience at the elementary and secondary level in Monterey County. He taught in Marina before becoming a teacher and counselor in the Salinas High School District four years ago. He holds a bachelor's degree in history, a master's degree in education, and is currently a candidate for a doctorate degree in educational administration.

He is 1962 president of the central coast section of the California Teachers Association and a past vice president of the same organization which has a membership of 3,000 teachers and administrators. He also serves on the State Council of Education as a member of the committee for financing public education.

Royal and his wife, Mary, live in Salinas and have four children ranging in age from two months to seven years.

Other candidates for county superintendent of schools are Dayton Benjamin, Monterey City Schools District administrator; Marcus Williams, principal of El Gabilan School, Salinas; Vernon Bagley, superintendent of the Soledad Union School District; and Dave Fernandez, principal of Alisal-Bardin School in Alisal.

Miss Gladys Stone, incumbent, has not yet stated whether or not she will be a candidate for re-election in June.

JOHN MCCOLLUM

The Monterey Peninsula Concert Association will present John McCollum, tenor, in the final concert of the 1961-62 season on Saturday evening at 8:15 o'clock in the Pacific Grove Junior High School Auditorium. George Malloy will accompany him.

Renewal memberships in the Monterey Peninsula Concert Association for the next season are now open, and new memberships will be available, insofar as seating capacity will allow, beginning Monday.

John McCollum, Saturday's concert association artist, is one of the rare individuals with the courage to leave a solid professional standing in one field and become successful in another. He studied journalism at the University of California, and spent three years as a naval aviator, then stepped into a reporting job. In his fourth year as city editor of the Coalinga Record, after winning the thousand-dollar award in the Atwater Kent Auditions in Los Angeles, he left the Coalinga paper and moved with his family to Berkeley and a position with the University of California editing agricultural news, and entered the competitive singing field in the Bay area, studying with Mynard Jones in Oakland. In May he won the American Theatre Wing concert award and was presented in a debut recital at Town Hall. Praise from the New York press was unanimous and he was on his way.

With New York's Little Orchestra Society, John McCollum sang the world premiere of Benjamin Britten's new work, Nocturne, and toured with the Society in Handel's oratorio, Judas Maccabaeus, and in Berlioz' L'Enfance du Christ. Between oratorio and opera engagements he has sung a full quota of recitals, and toured Alaska with the Robert Shaw Chorale.

He has appeared with all the major symphony orchestras, on tour with the Boris Goldovsky Opera Theatre, on television with the NBC Opera, and as featured soloist with the New York Oratorio Society, the Boston Handel and Haydn Society, the Robert Shaw Chorale, the Berkshire Festival at Tanglewood, and the Bethlehem Bach Festival.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Value to all mankind of the healing ministry of the Master will be stressed at Christian Science church services Sunday, in a Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Christ Jesus."

Luke's account of the healing by Christ Jesus of the man with the dropsy will be included in the Bible selections.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this citation will be read (p. 180): "When man is governed by God, the ever-present Mind who understands all things, man knows that with God all things are possible. The only way to this living Truth, which heals the sick, is found in the Science of divine Mind as taught and demonstrated by Christ Jesus."

The Golden Text is from Colossians (2): "As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him: rooted and built up in him, and established in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving."

Goals And Purposes Of MPVS Described
To New Members

A "get acquainted" luncheon and meeting of Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services was held at the U.S.O. on February 20 when members of the board of directors were hostesses to all members who became active in the organization during 1961. Mrs. S. Y. Cutler was in charge of luncheon arrangements. The luncheon was preceded by a panel discussion of the goals and purposes, as well as the ways of work of the group.

Mrs. Archer Allen, president, was assisted by Mrs. Carl Hering, vice president, who introduced members of the panel in turn. Mrs. Allen spoke of the goals of the organization, emphasizing the success of women with similar interests working together, and the benefits to the community from their collective action. In addition to the financial assistance given to local charitable agencies, the promotion of cultural development in supporting the Monterey County Symphony, foreign and gifted students, also craft centers was stressed as a means of widening the outlook of members.

Mrs. Margaret Stebbins spoke of the great need for personal services by the thirteen agencies on whose board MPVS is represented. These include the Carmel Foundation, Committee on Alcoholism, Salinas County Hospital, New Monterey Neighborhood Center, Mental Health, Community Chest, Family Service, Monterey Community Council, Visiting Nurses Association, Mentally Retarded Children, and the Red Cross.

Mrs. Arthur Black outlined the purposes of large scale projects. These projects present an opportunity for members to work on small committees and become better acquainted through their integrated efforts.

Mrs. A. Boyd Mewborn spoke in great detail about the purpose and function of the MPVS Thrift Shop at 785 Broadway, Seaside, explaining procedure in collection of and sale of merchandise donated to the shop. All proceeds from sales at the shop are allocated to local charitable groups.

Creative work groups are being formed under the leadership of Mrs. Manfred Crane. Members will meet in groups of six or seven, at home, one day a month to make items for sale at the Thrift Shop or bazaar which is planned for later this year.

Mrs. Carl Hering concluded the meeting, speaking with great enthusiasm of the fact that MPVS has donated over $28,000 to the Visiting Nurses since 1951, and allocated over $90,000 to various local charitable organizations.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at the Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel MA 4-3881.

ELLA H. HAY

Freedom from fear, sickness and sin, through spiritual understanding of God will be the topic of a free lecture on Christian Science in Carmel, Tuesday evening, March 13, by Ella H. Hay of Indianapolis, Indiana.

Now on an extensive lecture tour Mrs. Hay will speak here under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Carmel, in the church edifice, Monte Verde Street near 6th Avenue, Carmel, at 8:00 o'clock. Her subject will be "Investigate! Christian Science Meets the Challenge of Sin, Sickness, and Limitations." Local members of the church have invited the public to attend. The lecture is free, and no collection will be taken.

Prior to entering the practice of Christian Science healing in 1942, Mrs. Hay was active in education. An author of a number of school textbooks, work books and other books for children, among these "A Child's Life of Mary Baker Eddy," she held prominent positions in the National Education Association, the American Association for Childhood Education, and various women's clubs. She is a member of the Authors' League of America and is listed as author, educator, and lecturer in "Who's Who of American Women." Since 1953, she has lectured on Christian Science before public audiences throughout the United States, Europe, Canada, and other countries.

CARIBBEAN FILM MARCH 7 AT TOWN HOUSE

At the regular weekly meeting of The Carmel Foundation Town House on Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie C. Deck will present Screen Tour to Barbados instead of Rose Parade, the film previously announced. The latter film, not yet completed, will be shown on April 4. The Barbados picture will depict life on a sunny Caribbean island.

The Red Cross class, Fitness for the Future, which meets from 11:00-1:00 o'clock each Thursday at Town House, with discussion during the noon hour over coffee and sandwiches, has room for a few more participants.

Music On The Peninsula

Caledonia, the fourth event of this season's Monterey Peninsula Concert Association, drew a full house on Wednesday of last week. The inborn sense of music that each Scot has, more or less, has produced much pure melody in folk songs which the world knows and loves. This is particularly true of those of the Scots Border and Lowlands. While every Highlander at one time had his private harper, an instrument all were supposed to be able to play, the harp was superceded by the bagpipe in the Seventeenth Century, possibly because of its effectiveness among the mountains.

Today the folk songs of the Hebrides collected by Marjorie Kennedy Fraser by word of mouth, almost wholly represent the Highlands.
Two of these were given by the Caledonia group, Deirdre's Farewell and The Road to the Isles, in the picturesquely garb of the Highlander.

The simple beauty and pathos of the Jacobite Will Ye No Come Back Again? (to Prince Charlie) and The Queen's Maries (Mary, Queen of Scots) sung by Hilda Stewart and the chorus, were evidence of the great depth of feeling often hidden in the people of Caledonia stern and wild."

Andrew Macpherson, who, in his wide professional experience created the Caledonia ensemble with love for his native history, was born in Ayrshire amid the poetry and music of Burns. He conducted with tremendous energy and conviction. Many of Burns' songs were given. A typically Scottish group of seven women and six men presented a unique program of songs interspersed with dancing of reels, Highland flings and a sword dance, accompanied by piper William Robertson, accordionist Joseph Burke and pianist Richard Burnett with somewhat too little breathing space between, but the continuous progression in arrangements with the grace, tone and agile movements of the dancers, particularly that of dancers Billy Forsyth and Margaret Gordon, charmed the audience. The bass soloist, Clifford Norton, an artist of distinction, surprised with the depth and sonority of his voice, while the musical tone of the entire company was characteristic of Scotland's natural voices with rich and sympathetic qualities used in chorus with true harmony and modulation. Macpherson's solos, including the tragic story of Lord Randal and his Mother, were also outstanding. The program ended with Auld Lang Syne, joined in by the audience. The production was produced under a top director of Scottish television, Walter Butler, and represented an entertainment of distinction.

Before the concert, Mrs. Clyde Dyke, president of the Concert Association, addressed the audience.

Marilyn Horne, soprano, presented by the Monterey Peninsula College as a first event in its new music hall, Friday last, was accompanied by pianist Gwendolyn Koldofsky with whom the singer has coached at the University of California. The concert was attended by a representative audience that almost filled all the 250 seats in the attractive building. As she has had considerable opera experience in Europe, much was expected of the singer. Her presentation of an unusual program was done with dramatic, though sometimes kittenish, effects that

Physicians of the Monterey County Medical Society have invited
Dr. Omer W. Wheeler, president-elect of the California Medical Association, to be the guest speaker at their meeting this evening.

Dr. Wheeler, a Riverside surgeon, will assume the presidency of the state association at its next annual meeting in April, 1962. He will talk on The Satisfactions of Public Service.

The meeting, to be held at the Corral de Tierra Country Club, will

A. F. Kandlbinder, president of the Monterey County Medical Society.

intrigued her audience. Had her vocal production allowed a better focus with less arbitrary mouth-ing and excessive resonance, she would have gained immeasurably in performance. Her feeling and sense of modulation were inherently true, musical and artistic. Three Handel numbers were followed by five Wolf leider and Una Voce Popo Fa from Rossini's Barber of Seville. This last was given in excellent tempo and the light coquettishness it requires.

After intermission four numbers by Hindemith and four Spanish carols by Nin supplied the modern contributions to the program with two extras after recalls, the last an arrangement of the amusing old ditty, Oh Dear, What Can The Matter Be? To all of these Horne was amply and finely supported at the piano by Koldofsky who supplied the full harmonies and emphasis of the compositions, particularly in the lieder.

Congratulations are due the college for the acquisition of a suitable music hall.

Now with Frederick Rider's move towards a sizable auditorium we may eventually get the proper housing for not only theatre, but all big musical events, our Symphony Orchestra, the Bach Festival and an annual concert by the National Symphony League.

Wilderness Of The West

A monthly column
By C. Edward Graves

37. WILDERNESS AS A FEDERAL RESERVE BANK

In all the discussion on the Wilderness Bill that passed the Senate last September and will come up for a vote in this session in the House, opponents frequently make the claim that it is "locking up our resources." This is a catch phrase that is constantly parroted by local groups who have given only superficial study, if any at all, to the bill and its purpose.

Another similar phrase is that wilderness is a "single-use" resource, referring to recreation, whereas the rest of the national forest public domain is said to be "multiple-use," and therefore by implication a more desirable part of our national economy. Actually, three of the most important uses of the national forests—water conservation, wildlife conservation and recreation—are available now in the Wilderness Areas in less diluted form than in the logged-off or soon-to-be-logged-off areas outside of the Wilderness Areas.

At present there are only 6,773,080 acres of Wilderness Areas (officially set aside as such) in the whole United States. Most of them are at higher elevations where logging is unprofitable. These areas are given additional protection by the Wilderness Bill, but their status as "locked up resources" is not changed by the bill at all. A correct way of looking at the situation is to think of these Wilderness Areas as a bank—Federal Reserve Bank would be a correct title—with funds that are drawing interest regularly. The interest is partly in the physical, mental and spiritual well-being that the use of these areas provides; partly in the economic benefits from money spent by wilderness travelers. According to a statement in the new book by Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, My Wilderness—East to Katahdin, about ten thousand people visited the Bridger Primitive Area in Wyoming last year. These people left much money in circulation behind them. If the forests in the area had been logged off, its attraction for visitors would have vanished. Some lumber company would have made a profit on it but the yearly interest rate of the Wilderness Bank would have dropped to almost nothing.

The best illustration of the advantages of wilderness, considered as a Federal Reserve Bank, lies in the safety of its funds. They are not "locked up" permanently. The directors of the bank—in this case the President and Congress—can release the funds whenever it is in the interest of the country to do so. Provision is made for this in the Wilderness Bill. On the other hand, if the opponents of the Bill have their way, the Bank can be raided at will. Its funds (wilderness) are not safeguarded; and once raided, they are gone forever. The FBI can never force the raider to return the funds, because they have been used up. The damage is irreversible.

This is a point in the argument over the Bill that is insufficiently emphasized. No mistake can possibly be made by leaving our Wilderness Areas untouched for the present, since they can always be opened up in case of necessity; but a big mistake could be made in the opposite direction. If the Wilderness Bill is not passed, the position of the Wilderness Federal Reserve Bank will be greatly weakened.

Israeli Labor Leader Next World Affairs Council Speaker

The Arabs in Israel will be the subject of an address by Salim Joubran of the Israel Speakers Bureau for the World Affairs Council of the Monterey Peninsula at 8:00 o'clock Monday evening. The talk to be held in the Carmel High School auditorium is open to the public without charge.

Mr. Joubran was born in Caesarea, Palestine, in 1920, into the only Christian family in an all-Moslem village. After he graduated from the Terra Sancta College in Jerusalem, he moved to Haifa where he founded the first Arab teachers' trade union. He also founded the first Arab co-educational secondary school in Palestine. This was forced to close during the War of Liberation in 1948.

Disobeying the orders of the Arab leaders, but heeding the Jews' plea for peaceful co-existence between Arabs and Jews, he refused to leave the country. Soon after the establishment of the State of Israel, he joined the Palestine Labor League (Arab trade union) and was elected its general secretary.

He has represented Israel at a number of international labor conferences in Europe and is actively engaged in promoting among Israeli Arabs an awareness of the fact that there is no incompatibility between loyalty to the State of Israel and the aims of a genuine Arab movement.

Vivian and Warren Will Wed

St. John's Chapel, Del Monte, will be the setting Saturday afternoon for the wedding of Vivian Lee Davis and Warren Masten. Vivian is the daughter of Mrs. Verna V. Davis of Carmel, and the late Dwight O. Davis. Warren is the son of Mrs. Hildreth T. Hare of Carmel, and the late Richard L. Masten. Gay (Masten) Economakis of Cairo, Egypt, is his sister. His brothers are Rick Masten of Carmel, and Lee and Donn Hare, who attend the Desert Sun School in Southern California.

Old-time Carmelites of their generation, both young people attended Sunset School. A Carmel High graduate, Vivian studied at Monterey Peninsula College. Warren graduated from the Lycee Jaccard in Lausanne, Switzerland, served in the United States Navy, and is now a student at Monterey Peninsula College with plans for a teaching career.

Dr. Stilwell in San Diego

Mrs. Joseph W. Stilwell reports that her son, Dr. Benjamin Stilwell, is "happily settled" in Southern California, where he has accepted a position in the department of pathology at Clairemont General Hospital in San Diego. He and his wife, Betty, will live in nearby La Jolla.

Dr. Stilwell returned to this country in January from Nagasaki, Japan, where he worked with the Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission, studying late radiation effects on survivors of the bomb blasts of 1945.

He is a graduate of Carmel High School and Stanford University, also of McGill University Medical School in Montreal, Canada.

Danas Are Weekend Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Danas and their daughter Elizabeth, of Ladera, California, spent the week end on the Peninsula. While Elizabeth attended the American Friends Service Committee conference for young people at Asilomar, the older Danas visited friends in Carmel.

Symphony Guild Luncheon

A Symphony Guild luncheon, for members and guests, will be held in the Terrace Room of the Mark Thomas Inn on Tuesday at 12:30 o'clock. Karen Steinke will sing, accompanied by Camille O'haeta. There will also be a fashion show.

Yosemite Week End

Mrs. Kenneth Roberts, her daughter Nancy, and four of Nancy's high school friends, spent the week end in Yosemite on skis for the first time, and report that for beginners they were most successful, thanks to some special coaching by Ed Neroda. Betty Hegg, Tina Didrichsen, Tini Kiger, and Linda Weston completed the enthusiastic group.

Directing Play Is Her Thesis

Nancy Penoyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Penoyer, and a senior at Marymount College in Palos Verdes Estates, will direct two performances of J. M. Barrie's Quality Street as her senior thesis production in the Theatre Arts Department.

The comedy will be presented in the campus Pro Tem Theatre on April 6 and 7.

Most Sales Make Sense... Ours Just Makes Cents which oftentimes runs up to dollars saved by those who have taken advantage of our Pre-Inventory Sale.

There's no rhyme nor reason for the price-slashing except for this basic tenet: We believe a Sale should be exactly that. Sale markdowns from our regular, reasonable retail prices are major enough to be recognized as such even by the jaundiced eye.

What we don't want hanging around the shop any more, we've sale-priced at and below cost. Nothing the matter with it (if so, you are warned) except we are sick and tired of having it around.

However, most of the items we are reluctant to mark down. But, to us a Sale is a Sale, by gum . . . so they go down and out, too.

For instance:

. . . Hematite (Black Diamond) Jewelry marked down 25% to 50%. (Several select pieces at 50% . . . merely to get you interested.)

. . . Famous Cathrineholm Bowls from Norway at 25% off. (We're slightly "off" to let them go at these sale prices as they are genuine values at their regular prices.)

. . . Stationery, paper table accessories, English bone china cups and saucers, cutlery from the Continent, boutique items at 25% discount.

. . . Everyday greeting cards, current numbers, none held back, at tantalizing discounts.

. . . Kardomah and Twining Teas . . . not much left as there must be a host of real tea drinkers in this area . . . at 20% discount.

. . . Christmas Cards and Christmas Gift Wrap . . . not much of a selection left of our choice collection . . . marked down 50%.

This year this Annual Sale of ours ends at 5:30 p.m. come Saturday, March 3. Then back up go the prices on what is left.

This Sale makes sense to us
. . . and cents for you.

Local Dog Is Winner

Champion Rover Run Minstrel Man, a Pembroke Welsh Corgi owned by Mr. and Mrs. Derek Rayne of Carmel, won top honors at the Santa Clara Kennel Club dog show Sunday, over a field of 1,200 entries.

Early in the day he was judged best-of-breed in an entry of 20 Corgis, including three other champions. In final judging, the Carmel dog placed first in the working group, defeating the top Great Dane and the leading Boxer champion in the country, which placed second and third respectively.

Being a show winner is certainly not new to Minstrel Man, according to his owners. He took similar honors at the recent Golden Gate Show in San Francisco. His most outstanding win was at Westchester, New York, last September, where he won best-in-show honors at the National Specialty Show.

Audubon Society Has Six Events Planned For Month Of March

Mrs. G. P. Lamont, president of the Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society, announces the six activities for the month of March.

The final color film in the Wildlife Films series will be presented in Sunset School auditorium on March 9 at 8:00 o'clock in the evening. At that time, Cleveland P. Grant will narrate his motion picture, Heart of the Wild. This is a superb film that emphasizes the place of birds and mammals in the ecology of their habitats. Tickets may be obtained at the door before the lecture.

A field trip has been scheduled to Big Sur State Park for March 11. Milton Frincke will meet the group in the parking lot of Big Sur Lodge at 9:00 o'clock in the morning.

The Santa Cruz Bird Club has invited persons interested in birds to meet near the cemetery on Paul Sweet road east of Santa Cruz on the morning of March 14 at 9:00 o'clock. To reach the road, persons attending should turn out onto the Soquel Avenue approach off Highway One but not cross the overpass; then continue for one short block.

The regular monthly meeting of the Audubon Society will be held on March 16, because the Wildlife Film will occur on the usual meeting night. C. Edward Graves of Carmel will show slides of autumn colors in New England. The meeting will begin at 8:00 o'clock in the evening.

The Santa Clara Valley Audubon Society will conduct a field trip in the Moss Landing area on March 16. The meeting place will be Jetty Road and Highway One north of the cement bridge across Elkhorn Slough, the starting time 9:00 o'clock in the morning.

The final field trip of the month will be held in the Arroyo Seco area west of Greenfield. Birds and spring flowers will be observed.

The meeting place will be the picnic grounds by the Arroyo Seco River bridge in Los Padres National Forest, and the meeting time is 10:00 o'clock in the morning.

All interested persons are invited to the above activities, Mrs. Lamont states. Those who take part in all-day field trips are advised to bring a picnic lunch with them.

CARMEL ART ASSOCIATION MEMBERSHIPS OPEN

The board of directors of the Carmel Art Association will judge applications for membership on March 15.

Those desiring to become active members of the association must submit a completed application showing one year's residence within a 35-mile radius of Carmel, also three paintings or pieces of sculpture within the past two years.

To Join Seventh Fleet

Lee Gardner, machinist's mate third class, United States Navy, son of Louis G. Gardner of Carmel Valley, is serving aboard the dock landing ship USS Belle Grove, whose home port is Long Beach. His ship is shortly to join the Seventh Fleet in the western Pacific.

New Seton Book Released

Devil Water, an historical novel by Anya Seton, was released by her publishers on Monday and is now available in local book stores. Setting of the novel is the English Lake district.

The author of Devil Water is the cousin of Mrs. Nelson Miles Leoni of Carmel Valley, and Gallatin Powers of Monterey, whom she visited recently.

Willard Branson was denied permission to construct an 80-unit apartment development on Val Verde Road at the mouth of Carmel Valley by the county planning commission on Tuesday.

Reasons for the denial were: opposition from residents of the general area; spot zoning necessary for the development would lead to other zoning changes in the area; Val Verde is a private road; access to the proposed development should be over a public road.

Stuart Mitchell at Convention

Carmel Unified School District superintendent, Stuart Mitchell, returned last week from a convention of the American Association of School Administrators in Atlantic City, and reports that it was a tremendously successful meeting. Because of the enormous amount of ground to be covered, and the number of discussion panels involved, the convention set up its own television station which broadcast 15-minute units from the different panels in order that everyone might be informed about what was going on.

Mrs. Mitchell met her husband on his return to San Francisco on Thursday and the next day they drove up to Donner Lake to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Small (Barbara) and their children, Laura and Marty, then went on to Reno to visit their other son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Berrum (Sue) and their granddaughter, Becky Berrum.

Congress from the 12th Congressional District

Sunday, William K. Stewart of Carmel Highlands was endorsed as the Democratic candidate in Salinas at a convention of California Democratic Council delegates, state and county committeemen, and Democratic holders of non-partisan offices.

He won out over Dr. Robert Bowersox of Monterey by a 131 to 96 vote on the second and final ballot.

Dr. Bowersox stated that he would continue his fight for nomination as a Congressional candidate in the June primaries.

At the same meeting, James Campbell of Carmel was elected permanent chairman of this district's Democratic caucus.

Assemblyman Glenn Coolidge of Felton is the endorsed Republican candidate in the 12th Congressional district which comprises Monterey, San Benito, San Luis Obispo and Santa Cruz Counties. It is a new district.

Local Author's Book, The Unlikely One, Published Abroad

A Carmel author, Claude Kinnoull, has just published what seems to me a tiny masterpiece, The Unlikely One, suitable for dog lovers of any age, or for lovers of children or even lovers of just people, for that matter.

When Wilbur James McFerracy, manager of the Humane Society Shelter, saw "the young head visible above the fence wore a G. I. cap" and that his companion was "a mongrel dog," he knew just what to expect. And so, I thought, do I, as I recalled the sentimentality of Black Beauty and Beautiful Joe which caused me so much anguish in my childhood. (Not that I realized that they were sentimental). But The Unlikely One has no false sentiment, no touch of the pathetic fallacy. Claude Kinnoull makes no unfair appeal to our feelings. With quick, sure touches she turns us, for the time being, into McFerracy, into Brutus.

I have often wondered what time seemed like to the dog or cat which I had to entrust to a kind friend, or to a reputable kennel for a time. Or to the dog I was taking care of for a friend. I think Lady Kinnoull has found the word for it.

"Brutus lay at the far end of his run with his chin on his paws, waiting. In human time he had been here for eight days. In dogs' time it was no time at all, but a state into which he had entered, the state of waiting."

The soldier asked McFerracy, "You do find 'em homes?" McFerracy replied, "Sure do!" But, looking at the oddness and uncomeliness of Brutus, "part Belgian shepherd, part Chesapeake," the soldier explained—as if to be part of two breeds were an advantage—McFerracy asked, "How about your folks keepin' the dog for you?"

"Ain't got no folks," the soldier replied, grinning as though it were a joke, "Me and Brutus were just a family on our own." So McFerracy tried very hard to find an owner for the awkward mutt.

A kind shelter manager can keep a dog or a cat for a long time if there seems any chance of placing it, but if not, after a time, the space and food are needed for newcomers. Twice Brutus was saved from a journey to "the gas box" by the ringing of the telephone or the shelter bell. Even Christmas time, with its rush of people to buy puppies or dogs for their children, left Brutus still "working on" the bone McFerracy had given him for a Christmas gift. And then the happy ending, which I think the reader will hardly guess.

The Unlikely One is published by The World's Work in Kingswood, Surrey, England. — H. Ide.

Editor's note: Lady Kinnoull's book is expected to be available locally as soon as American printings are arranged.

FASHION SHOW THURSDAY

A premier showing of Couture Coordinates by famed fashion designer Oleg Cassini of New York will be presented by Earlene's Boutique, Lincoln Lane, next Thursday afternoon.

The showing of the collection, which features pants and coordinated tops, will be given for an invited audience at 2:30 o'clock in the Sans Souci Restaurant, also on Lincoln, with the serving of tea to be part of the afternoon's program.

Invited to pour have been Mrs. Jimmie Hatio and Mrs. Frederick Talbot, both of Pebble Beach.

Models will be Mrs. Rudolph Ver Mehr, Jr.; Mrs. John Monroe, Mrs. R. Jack White, Mrs. Thomas J. Waters and Mrs. Charles Strohmeier.

LOCAL ARTISTS' WORK IN ALL-CALIFORNIA SHOW

Artists and sculptors from all over the state will be exhibited March 15-25 in the All-California Art Exhibition at the National Orange Show in San Bernardino.

Local artists, whose work will be shown, are Joseph Goethe, Robert Han, and S. C. Yuan.

Mr. Goethe and Mr. Han will be represented by sculptures; Mr. Yuan by an oil painting.

TALK ON PUPPETRY

All interested persons are invited by the Carmel Crafts Guild to hear a talk on March 9 in the Carmel Art Gallery by John Ralph Geddis and Francois Martin of the Tantamount Theatre in Carmel Valley. The Craft of the Puppet Theatre will be the subject they will discuss.

BIG PLANS FOR LITTLE LEAGUE SEASON

President Mark Johnston and his tireless Little League board of directors aren't resting on the fine reputation enjoyed by the Carmel Little League since its inception, but are making an all-out effort to come up with a bigger and better season during 1962. Several innovations to spruce up the Little League program are in the hopper and should be in full operation before the opening game on May 5.

Going on its fifth year as a major or recreational activity in Carmel, the Carmel Little League has drawn high praise by experts on Little League affairs who are impressed with the high standards of sportsmanship displayed by players, fans, and managers. Participation is the keynote of Carmel Little League, and every boy who is a member of a Major or Farm club is assured of playing in all games scheduled for his team.

To insure a smooth start and avoid the confusion which abounds on the first tryout date, a Little League "Sign-up" night has been slated for March 21 from 7:00-9:00 p.m. at the Carmel High School music room. All Little Leaguers, new and old, must sign up on this date in order to participate in the 1962 Little League program. Parents must accompany the youngsters to the sign-up in order to provide vital information relating to birth date, vacation plans, and volunteer help to keep the Carmel Little League the best. Members of the Carmel Little League Women's Auxiliary will be on hand at the "Sign-up" to record the facts and help parents become members of Carmel Little League.

This year a Women's Auxiliary is being formed. It will be made up of those women who recognize the community value of having a strong Little League program, and who are willing to give a little of their time and talents to this important project. If you have any experience in journalism, if you

(Continued from Page One) Curriculum coordinator functions only in the elementary grades, the report pointed out. Hiring a second assistant superintendent to take charge of coordinating instruction and curriculum throughout the district would remedy this deficiency, according to the report.

The present curriculum coordinator's job should be re-evaluated. She might make a greater contribution to the educational program by working with probationary teachers and in special pupil services, the report suggested. Thorough study and coordination of these services, which are testing, guidance, counseling and health and psychological service, are needed in Carmel District the report stressed.

Re-evaluation of the position of director of recreation and physical education in the Carmel system is needed. This director's work is now closely related to the instructional program and is complicated by the fact that half his salary is paid from recreation funds. The report advises this director should be moved to the central office staff and his duties as athletic director at the High School be discontinued.

The consultant's report doubted that the job of coordinating the physical education program requires half time service of this director on the basis of a written description of the job and a personal interview with the incumbent.

The director of adult education and the summer school program should be relieved of his present special education and attendance duties, the report advised. These should be the responsibility of the assistant superintendent in charge of instruction. Special consultants may be needed by this assistant in the special pupil service field which should also be his responsibility, it added.

The district's auditor should be an wholly independent agent to examine school operation records and not assume any responsibility for administrative operation or policy-making of the district, was another recommendation in the report.

"The most striking feature of the Carmel school system is the good morale and system-wide loyalty to the superintendent and central administration. This is a precious asset that an expanding staff and organization must take care to perpetuate and even enhance," the Odell-MacConnell report said, and added that Carmel's school problems are only those of a small compact district becoming a middle-sized district with an expanded geographic area.

Carmel has been plagued by these expansion problems for the past several years, is now, and will be for some years to come, the report continued.

The present pattern of divided instructional responsibility at elementary and secondary school levels falls short of meeting Carmel's needs. This would be remedied by employing an assistant superintendent in charge of district-wide instructional program.

Although at first glance Carmel appears above average in central office staff, also salaries paid these administrators, upon close inspection, the report revealed, Carmel is average in this respect in relation to other districts.

"The number of administrative and supervisory personnel employed by a district should be related to the best educational system possible for the particular district and controlled by community needs, desires and financial reserves," the report advocated.

Administrative salary schedules should be developed according to what is reasonable for Carmel district at this time; accepted educational principles and practices; analysis of salaries paid in districts of like size.

The school board and members of Odell-MacConnell Associates will meet in further sessions after trustees have studied and evaluated last night's 50-page report and nine-page appendix.

Second Meeting On River Mouth Flood Control Measures

(Continued from Page One) port when the river crests over the company's two dams in Upper Carmel Valley; details of a fixed responsibility for opening the bar should be worked out, and be foolproof; emergency equipment for opening the bar should be immediately available if floods threaten; the State Division of Beaches and Parks should report possible flood conditions in the lagoon and river mouth area which is a State Park and patrolled by park rangers several times daily.

Those who attended the meeting were Robert J. Renard, assistant professor in the department of meteorology and oceanography at the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School; Jess T. Chaffee, California Division of Beaches and Parks superintendent for this area; Milton Frincke, supervisor of Point Lobos State Reserve; Carl Albertus of the local State Division of Forestry office; Howard Shebley, captain in the State Fish and Game Department; U. F. McElroy, division engineer for the California Water and Telephone Company; Max R. Drewien and James B. Pruitt, Carmel Sanitary District representatives; Emilio and Bruno Odello, artichoke ranchers, and Senator Farr.

He was teacher and coach for the following academic year at Carmel High School, served as recreation director again in the summer of 1946, and then quit the teaching field to join the staff of the Coast Counties Land Title Company in Monterey.

Mr. Fehring is a director of the Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce and a past president of the Carmel school board. He has also at various times served as president of the Church of the Wayfarer League and of the church's board of trustees of which he is still an affiliate member, of Carmel Lions Club, and as a football official for the Pacific Coast Conference. He takes great pride in a 15-year perfect attendance record with the Carmel Lions Club.

Recently he was selected as a prospective member of the Monterey County Grand Jury.

He built his home at Second and Torres streets, where he and his wife, Marie, now live. The Fehrings have five daughters, Janet, a junior at Stanford University; Jean, a sophomore at Chico State College; Joy, a freshman at the University of California at Davis; JoAnne, a fourth grader at Woods School, and Julie, a sixth grader at Sunset.

The organization Mr. Fehring joins in April was founded in 1940 by Mr. Segal, who has been for 40 years in the financing business in Carmel.

Dr. Berne Talks On Group Dynamics At MPC Monday

Psychiatrist Eric Berne, a resident of Carmel, will give the first of four talks on Group Dynamics for Members and Leaders Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock in the Monterey Peninsula College library lecture hall. Dr. Berne will base his lectures on a forthcoming book, The Therapy of Ailing Groups.

He has practiced in Carmel and San Francisco for the past 15 years. Born in Montreal, Canada, he graduated from McGill University's School of Medicine, then received psychiatric training at Yale University, and psychoanalytic training at the New York and San Francisco Psychoanalytic Institutes. He was formerly consultant in psychiatry to the Surgeon General, U.S. Army, and attending psychiatrist to the Veterans Administration mental hygiene clinic in San Francisco.

A native of Chicago, Miss Wolfson studied dramatics at Carlton College and Northwestern University in Minnesota. She became interested there in the monologue, later opened a school of dramatics. She also appeared around Chicago enacting "great women" profiles.

Following marriage, Miss Wolfson left the stage for a time, but went back to the platform circuit and then into daytime radio serials. She began touring the country with monologue performances, and finally decided that what she wanted to do more than anything else was to deliver a message to her audiences. She decided on Miss Keller's story. To do this, she learned the manual alphabet, spent time with the blind and deaf, and verbalized speech mannerisms while going about her daily chores.

Since her first performance in 1958, Miss Wolfson has presented her Helen Keller monologue series more than 150 times before men's and women's clubs, colleges, and teachers' institutes.

Auditions March 10 For Symphony Opera Performance Soloists

The Monterey County Symphony has announced open auditions to fill the solo parts in Dido and Aeneas, which is scheduled for performance on the final concert of the current series.

The Purcell opera will be presented by the symphony in a concert version in cooperation with the Hartnell-Community Chorus. Solo roles which will be filled through the auditions include one mezzo-soprano, two sopranos, and one tenor or high baritone. Auditions will take place March 10 at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon in the auditorium of the new music building at Monterey Peninsula College.

Judges for the event include Vahe Aslanian, conductor of the Hartnell-Community Chorus and member of Hartnell College music faculty; John Farr, music superintendent of the Carmel schools, also personnel manager for the Monterey County Symphony; and John Gosling, conductor of the symphony. They have asked that all participants come prepared to audition with selections of their choice from the standard repertoire. An accompanist will be provided.

Interested vocalists who may wish additional information may reach Mr. Gosling by calling MA 4-8046 or by writing to him care of the Monterey County Symphony, Box 3851, Carmel.
